Join us on an Italian Culinary Adventure

Come with us to Tuscany and share a week of food, wine, fun and friendship

27 October – 3 November

Have you ever wanted to learn how to make your own fresh pasta?

Uncover the secrets that make Italian food so delicious?

Visit award winning vineyards of Chianti with private tasting and tours?

Explore the history and culture of Florence, Lucca and hidden mountain villages?

Have fun learning with like-minded travellers in a stunning 15th Century luxury villa?

If yes, then come join us!

Dunowen House & Villa Burlamacchi

Since travelling to Tuscany in February and experiencing the most amazing immersive adventure ourselves, we've been dying to share this with you. We are thrilled to unveil an unmatched experience in an unforgettable location.

You will be warmly hosted by our gorgeous friend Francesca Burlamacchi and her team in her majestic hill-top Villa Burlamacchi, which has been in her family since the 1500's.

Hands-on cooking classes

Learn how to make your own silky pasta, ravioli, gnocchi, authentic wood-fired pizza, sauces and desserts under the tutelage of resident Chef Attilio Petrella.

The programme includes two hands-on days of cookery classes in the Villa.

Award winning wineries

Visits to a selection of stunning boutique Tuscan wineries for tours and tastings. These vineyards have been carefully chosen to introduce you to some of the most exciting wines in the region.

We have also built in time for you to relax by the villa's infinity pool, visit local historic thermal spas and enjoy the cultural and shopping delights of Florence and Lucca.

What's included?

- Luxury private ensuite accommodation for 7 nights in an historic villa.
- All meals prepared at the villa by Head Chef.
- Hands-on cookery classes on-site using the best local ingredients.
- Vineyard tours and tastings.
- Use of villa pool, sauna & two spa treatments.
